Estimax Pro

auto estimation from CAD drawings

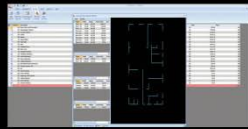

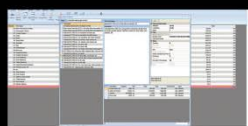

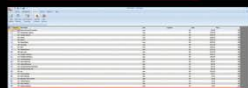

QUANTITY ESTIMATION, IN MINUTES!

Quantity Surveying (QS) is one of the time consuming activities in any design firm. Most of the QS engineers spend many man hours to manually calculate from CAD drawings to generate a data in Excel Sheet. Estimax is an estimation software which can be used with CAD software's like AutoCAD and ZWCAD. It has an auto recognition capacity that will help to generate building estimation quantities by simply selecting the plans in 2D CAD drawings. The formula defining tool helps to add user's formulas to calculate the estimation to any accuracy. Estimax incorporate latest Rate Analysis details and users can edit or create the same. The estimation output can be exported to Microsoft Excel with built in formulas and can be modified even after exporting.

Estimax is just not limited to estimation of quantities, but to Rate Analysis, Costing, Quantity Take Off, various Schedule of rates and much more.

Estimax solves this task by automating the generation of quantities from your existing CAD drawings. The process just involves a digital scan of drawings from the CAD environment, and centre line drawing and quantities will be automatically generated with great accuracy.

Experience Estimax, and save your time and money!
